Women in low-income countries are most likely to have an unsafe abortion

Countries by World Bank income group

Abortion is safe when done by a trained person using WHO-recommended methods, less safe when only one of those conditions is met and least safe when neither is met.