

Public and private facilities turned away 27% of all women seeking menstrual regulation services in 2014

Facilities that turned women away reported the following reasons for doing so:

