Figure 1. Algorithm for the systematic offer of reproductive health services, Guatemala Ministry of Health

Provide requested care. Then ask:
Are you married or in union (are you sexually active)? If "yes," then:	Inform of services: Family planning and contraceptive methods. Prenatal and postpartum care. Services for children. Sex education.
Are you pregnant? If "yes," then:	Check: Attendance to prenatal care.
Have you had a birth in the last 2 months? If "yes," then:	Provide postpartum services. Ask: Is your child alive? If "no," then: advise and provide family planning If "yes," then check: Lactation. Well-baby care. Immunizations. Family planning.
Do you have a child less than one year old? If "yes," then:	Check: Lactation. Well-baby care. Immunizations. Family planning.
Do you want a pregnancy in the following year? If "yes," then:	Check reproductive risk: If "no risk," then recommend prenatal care and teach natural family planning. If "yes risk," then advise family planning.
Are you using a method? If "yes," then:	Check: Satisfaction with method. Secondary effects. Absolute contraindications. Correct use.
Do you want a method? If "yes," then:	Determine reproductive intentions: If "spacing," then advise and provide temporary methods. If "limiting," then advise and provide long-lasting method. Provide temporary method in the meantime.
If "no," then:	Determine why she does not want a method and provide education: Ask for reasons and provide a solution if possible. Educate about the benefits of family planning. Verify risk factors/explain the risks the woman has. Assure her of the availability of family planning services whenever she wants them.